

Class 2 Outline

- 1 Review of chapter 1: the meaning of 'method,' the basic pattern of operations; the meaning of 'intentional,' the meaning of 'conscious,' and the meaning of the expression 'transcendental notions,' including the distinction of these from 'transcendental concepts,' and the meaning of objectifying intentional consciousness.
- 2 Chapter 2 in relation to the overall objective of the book, and in relation to the position on decision in Insight.
- 3 The Structure of the Human Good
 - 3.1 The threefold constitution of the human good: particular goods, good of order, values
 - 3.2 Analysis of the process, especially the place of orientation and conversion
- 4 Elements of Development for the Human Good
 - 4.1 Skills: immediacy and the world mediated by meaning; differentiations of consciousness
 - 4.2 Feelings: intentional and nonintentional; feelings and self-transcendence; feelings and the scale of values; development and decline of feelings; love and resentment
- 5 The Notion of Value
- 6 Judgments of Value and the contexts in which they occur
- 7 Beliefs and the appropriation of one's heritage
- 8 Progress and Decline and the role of religion; ideology and alienation