

Questions: Method 13 & 14

W

1. What is the function of the functional specialty, Systematics? 336
2. What is Lonergan's notion of objectivity and how is it important for the relation between theology and philosophy? self-transcendence, 338. Separation & distinction.
3. Can you explain the difference between the functional specialty Doctrines' relation to truth and the functional specialty Systematics' relation to truth?
Intentionality analysis.
4. Based on the material in the chapter on Communications, what would you say is the relationship between meaning and community for Lonergan?
5. Why does the final chapter on Communications consist of the material that it does? In other words, why are those things included in Lonergan's chapter on Communications? And moreover, what does that tell you about what he thinks theologians are supposed to be doing?

- Is God an object?
- Analysis & synthesis
- new relations

Overarching movement:

doctrines established by adding foundations
to dialectic → facts understood in doctr systematics

but what does he mean by this understanding?
something else than authority
grasp of intell interrelation of what is affirmed
by doctrines

und 4 concepts -

"Closed options" based on shift to intentionality
analysis
- shift in foundations